

Dear FCC,
I strongly advise in not supporting any law which would limit what content I am allowed to hear from a service which I pay for.

If radio has not embraced newer technology by which audio content could be delivered in over 30 years (FM), then this is something they will need to address. Also, if I choose not to listen to their programming because I think it is not timely or adequate, then they need to work on improving this as well.

Please do not support anything which would limit my choices for local audio content.

Thank you.

Regards,

Sergio A. Garza
